EX-PREMIER OF HUNGARY FLAYS BOLSHIEVISM

Most Anti-Democratic Symptom of the Age, He Says at Williams

By Associated Press
Williams, Aug. 18.—A character of Bolshevism as "the most anti-democratic symptom of the age," was made by Count Paul Teleki, former premier of Hungary, in a lecture at the Institute of Politics at Williams College today. He described from his long experience the rise and fall of Bolshevism in Hungary.

OF DOWLING OPENS COURT FIGHT FOR SON

Files Denial to Petition Filed by His First Wife

Mark Temple Dowling has filed a denial to the petition filed by his first wife, Isabelle M. Dowling, asking that a decree of adoption of her son, arising from his first wife's adultery, be set aside. The first Mrs. Dowling agreed to a divorce from Dowling, the first wife of the same individual, and Dowling's second wife, but when she was asked to have the divorce revoked and the child returned to her.

Camels Order Silent Protest Against Prohibition

By International News Service
Chicago, Aug. 18.—Chicago members of the Order of Camels have received instructions to remove their hats and stand still for one minute at 3 p. m. on Labor day as a silent protest against prohibition. No matter what they are doing, the instructions read, they must let commercial, social and civic machinery stop during the minute of protest.

MRS. WILLIAMS SCOFFS AT 'LOVE IN COTTAGE'

Too Much Work, Says Former Bride of Jack Geraghty

Chicago, N. H., Aug. 18.—Love in a cottage is like riding a bicycle—too much work for the fun you get out of it, according to Mrs. Julia French Williams, former bride of Jack Geraghty.

With her second husband, Edward T. Williams, Boston, Geraghty, said the woman who at seventeen could do "back" stretches, a chat with a friend, a light breakfast, and a farmhouse owned by her father.

ONE of the latest tissues to be accepted by the Paris couturiers is Dresden flowered taffeta, and its color possibilities are delightful. One evening gown that manages to be gracefully draped without being noticeably bouffant gives it its yellow, figured with burnt orange, and adds over the right hip a puff of flower of the deeper shade in chiffon. This model has the moderately rounded neckline that appears more and more frequently in formal evening gowns as Autumn approaches.

ONE has to look twice this season to decide how Paris achieves her waist-line, and upon looking twice at this dinner gown of black crepe de chine (right) one observes that its waistline is a mere matter of cunningly arranged folds. From these folds spring panels of crepe that become trains lined with white satin trailing out at an astonishing distance behind the wearer. Yet, which is making its appearance in ever so many ways, forms the shoulder straps.

SECOND SHOCK
RESTORES

Stricken Speechless by Roller Coaster Fright, Swimming Mishap Brings It Back

The voice she lost when she jerked her head and screamed while dashing down a roller coaster last June is slowly coming back to Miss Doran from, sixteen years old, of No. 45 Chestnut street, Chelsea.

And the return of her control over her vocal apparatus was due, say her doctors, to exactly the same reason that brought about the loss. Prolonged shouting caused the loss of her power of speech. Another fright is believed to be bringing it back.

Miss Doran was a member of the production class of the Shurtleigh Junior High School, and on June 29 last went with the other members of her class on the annual outing.

With two companions she clambered into the roller coaster. As the coaster plunged down the slope in circles it came to one of the curves. Miss Doran was sitting in a rear seat and as it was whirling about the curve her head was jerked to one side just as she screamed loudly with fright.

There came a sharp click to her throat and a stabbing pain. When the coaster reached the bottom she was speechless, and for weeks was unable to speak a word above a whisper.

Thoroughly alarmed at last, her mother took her to a number of Chiropractic and Boston doctors and suffered paths, but the girl's condition baffled them. There appeared to be a bone out of place, they thought, but the most searching examination failed to reveal it. It was then the manipulation by the osteopath and her recovery.

Another fright accounted for it. Then she was told that only "another fright would do her any good."

This was true in some measure. She was now in the hospital, and was swimming at Revere Beach the other day, but when she found herself beyond her depth and with her head falling her, the fear of death once over her again and she screamed loudly.

Since then her voice has been coming back little by little, though it is still difficult for her to talk and her words are hoarse and hard to understand.

WE should make good every single minute of the day and night. That's what we try to do. We know there are cases where we fail. If yours is one, we shall be glad to hear from you.

HARD LUCK FOLLOWS EVELYN NESBIT--HER TEA ROOM LOOTED

SELF MADE! Rep. Martin B. Madden of Illinois, who will be the paymaster-in-chief of 600,000 employees of Uncle Sam, started his business career at the age of 10 as a water boy. Became president of largest contracting firm in U.S. At the age of 20 he turned down salary of $10,000 a year. (Int.)

NEW FURS! Fashionable furs for the Fall have already made their appearance, and this charming squirrel scarf, which loops in an attractive manner over the shoulder, is listed as one of the smartest. Designed by Mitche, it is a Boston American address fashion. Very popular when worn with snuff to match. (U. & U.)

MRS. BENJAMIN E. COLE of Boston, although defeated, made a game fight for the championship at Forest Hills. (Int.)

WANTS A JOB?

When Keeper John Tannoy of the New York Zoological Gardens resigns, apply for it. You'd find it interesting. This is one of his easiest tasks. He is examining the mouth of a vicious South American box constrictor for infection. John is saying, "Now stick out your tongue." He has nothing to do till tomorrow. (K. & H.)

EYES!

The cherubic Conley sisters (right) stepped into their bathing suits, stepped out at the bathing girl parade at Redondo Beach, Cal., and then stepped off with all the prizes. The judges had to pick from 60 contestants, but who would doubt the decision? Both were charming and leafy sea suits. (Int.)

PINK KNEES! A smart little gown by Miss Lillian Sturmach (left), who is awarded $5 in the San Beauty Contest. Will she please call for her check? Gosh, girls, there isn't many days left to enter the contest. Don't forget that, above all, photos must be clear. All will be returned. Address: Pictorial Editor, Boston American. If you have entered and your photo hasn't been returned, have hope, as it still has a chance of winning.

WILLIAM HIGHTOWER, in center, wearing Panama hat, who furnished the clue by which the body of Father Patrick E. Heslin (upper insert) was found, riddled with bullets, buried in a sand lodge near Solano Beach, San Francisco, Cal., is now charged with the crime. Doris Shirley, lower insert, is the girl who chattered Hightower's alibi and caused his arrest. Main photo shows Hightower aiding the police find body.

IN ALL THEIR SPLENDOR! Regiment and ancient paintings may now be viewed in all their original luster, without restoration, through the invention of this device. By means of a polarized light apparatus, with various magnifiers and with the aid of a Nichols prism, the aged pictures are revealed as they were when painted. Experts declare it will prevent picture collectors from being swindled. (K. & H.)

WHY HAWAII IS PROUD! Here's the best combination for water supremacy—Irish and Hawaiian. Estelle Cassin, and Mariechen Wehsele, members of the Outrigger Canoe Club relay team, Honolulu, set a new world's record for 400 yards. (W. W.)

MORE HARD LUCK! The gods of evil still pursue Evelyn Nesbit, for thieves broke into her tea room on West 52d St., N. Y., and stole $258 worth of goods. The tea shop was her latest attempt as a businesswoman. (Int.)

MRS. MARY DE BRITO, famous Chicago beauty, who committed suicide after brooding over a letter she received from magazine editor. (Int.)

BOSTON MEMBERS of the League of Women Voters have joined in the general demand of the organization that President Harding appoint a woman delegate to the disarmament conference.

GOOD-BY, MR. COP!

Bill Brennan, matched with Harry Darnville, "fighting cop," for a 12-round bout at New Haven Sept. 3, is here shown entertaining wounded veterans at Staten Island. After Sept. 3 the cop will confine his scrapping to the streets. (Int.)

MAHAMED SLEEM, skilful racketeer of India, one of the most interesting figures in the Davis Cup matches at Forest Hills. He is an aristocrat of India and has played since a small boy. Has a powerful stroke. (U. & U.)
